VENICE.—Take a gondola for a trip through the Grand Canal during these war days and one sees many changes in the centers of interest well known to travelers and readers—the war-dress of the homes of Lord Byron, and the composer, Wagner, of the poet, Browning, and the American writer, W. D. Howells, the romantic palace where Desdemona waited for Othello, and further along in the market quarter near the Rialto bridge, the house of Shylock, the quaint building standing there unchanged today but now used as a butcher's shop where a hasty Italian butcher exacts Shylock war prices of 90 cents a kilo for the pounds of flesh dealt over the counter.

Starting from the quay San Marco, the broad lagoons entering the Grand Canal have an air of martial and naval preparation rather than the usual carnival aspect which marks this center. The quays are lined with soldiers and sailors, and the gondolas are carrying great loads of war supplies back and forth, and transporting troops and marines from point to point while the launches from the warships dart in and out among the gondolas. Few Gondolas in Service.

Ordinarily there are 2600 gondolas in regular service—600 private and 2000 public—but only a very few of these remain in use owing to the terror inspired by the bomb raids. Most of the wealthy residents have hurriedly left for the south, and there are no tourists to make use of the public gondolas. Only one first-class hotel remains open, and half of it is given over to a hospital for the wounded brought in from the nearby fighting lines.

Entering the Grand Canal, the great domes of Santa Maria della Salute stand out on the left, but always with their war trappings, for here is located the headquarters of the army red cross, where most of the work of the field hospitals is regulated. The palace Venier next to the church is

WOMEN MUST REALIZE TRAINING IS ONLY ROAD TO BUSINESS SUCCESS

It is extraordinarily difficult to make women realize fully the absolute necessity for a thorough training if they intend to take up some special career as a permanent means of earning their living. Many have come to understand that there is little or no opening for the untrained worker, and, in consequence, are ready to take some kind of training before seeking a paid position. This is a great step in the right direction, but there is always the tendency to think that a very short and cursory training will be sufficient, and that greater efficiency can be picked up by degrees when actually holding a position.

If women wish to do men's work and to prove themselves equally competent, they must seriously take this matter into consideration. A boy chooses his future career at a comparatively early age and prepares for that career for a considerable time before he can hope to earn a good salary. Take the numerous branches of men's work—the plumbers, builders, cabinet makers, etc. In each case they have served an apprenticeship for several years. Again, in the case of farmers, lawyers, engineers, etc., every man who has any prospect of making headway and earning a steady income has given years and years to careful study and practical experience before arriving at the point where his success is fairly well assured.

Where Women Fail.
This is where women are likely to fail. They are in such a terrible hurry to begin. Even in cases where the question of money and time to spend in training presents no difficulty, they are quite ready to cram as much as they can into a few weeks, and, without waiting to perfect their knowledge, rush out to obtain some kind of position.

URGES WOMEN TO ADOPT TROUSERS

PITTSBURG, Pa.—The Rev. James E. Norcross, pastor of Shady Brook Baptist church, just returned from San Francisco, says while there he saw Oriental women in Chinatown more sensibly attired than their Occidental sisters and "they wore something very like trousers."
"When God gave folks legs He intended them for use, and if all women adopted the masculine attire used by their sisters in mountain climbing they would feel better," concluded the speaker.

WET SOLON WANTS TO MOVE

U. S. CAPITAL TO MILWAUKEE
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Fearing that the prohibitionists will make Washington "dry," Representative William J. Carey of Wisconsin wants to move the national capital to Milwaukee. To this end he has introduced in Congress a resolution directing the federal government to retreat before the advancing "dry" forces and retire to the damp fastnesses of Wisconsin. The resolution declares that "prohibition is a menace to society and good government." The resolution went to the committee on alcoholic traffic.

Services Sundays 6 p. m. and by arrangement. All sailors cordially welcome.

Subject lesson sermon for Sunday, January 23, 1916, "Truth."

similarly used for army hospital administration, and the red cross flags are flying everywhere as a warning of immunity from bomb raids. Further up the canal on the right is the house of Desdemona. Just what Desdemona did in her day is a matter of tradition and Shakespearean romance. Now the old palace is occupied by a rich merchant family who have fled to the south; the curtains are drawn, the lower windows guarded by steel shutters and the gardens neglected.

Clearing Side Canals.
In front of the former German embassy dredges are now at work cleaning out the side canals. This is a mammoth work, done every 200 years in the Grand Canal, and every 20 years in the side canals. The present absence of traffic has given opportunity for this scouring. Great masses of black mud are brought up and carried out to sea. All the sewage of Venice empties into these canals, but the tides of the Adriatic sweep out the sewage and keep the city in a reasonably healthy condition.

In the market section of the city the Grand Canal shows its usual activity with the fish and vegetable markets surrounded by boats and crowded with customers. Venice has recently finished a veritable palace for its fish market.

War Prices On Everything.

The markets and stores in the vicinity showed war prices prevailing everywhere owing to the military demand, except on some vegetables and fruit. Cauliflower was six cents, turnips six cents a kilo, potatoes 8 cents a kilo. Apples and pears were from 40 to 70 centimes a kilo. Eggs were 3 cents each—quite cheap. Butter was high and beans particularly high because the supply from Galicia has been cut off by the war.

The working classes continue to get meals at reasonably cheap rates, owing to orders given by the city authorities. Shops for the poor are selling soup at 2 cents a plate, and with bread 3 cents. A big slice of maize cake is one cent, and with baked fish 2 cents. The price of bread is kept down by municipal regulations and the quality of the bread kept up.

WOMEN MUST REALIZE TRAINING IS ONLY ROAD TO BUSINESS SUCCESS

This leaves the "trail of the amateur" over all their work, and is the chief reason why many employers are so chary of engaging women. They have learned by experience that few women are sufficiently well trained to be trusted entirely to carry out their work satisfactorily.

A woman who has made a huge success of farming and sees in this work a big field for other women who are willing to take time to learn the details of the work, writes the following interesting letter on the subject: "We are trying to get intelligent women on the land, but they expect to go there with little or no knowledge or experience, and ask the wages, many of them, of skilled workers, or they are prepared to give a short time to learn a branch, say six weeks or three months, and consider themselves fully equipped to earn a good living at that particular work."

Too Much Hurry.
"Milking, for instance. Classes have been arranged, of six weeks' duration in which girls are supposed to become efficient in this art, if I may call it so. Milking cannot be properly learned in this time, and in nine cases out of ten the farmer's cows will be utterly ruined as good milking cows. Again, take poultry farming. Girls come to me for a three months' course, and ask if they are able to take a position as managers or run their own farm. It is against all reason."

"I have had many years' experience in poultry and dairy farming, and I do want to see the women much more enlightened and better equipped for the work that is before them. Why should parents and guardians expect girls to enter the field of wage earning upon so little and so indifferent a training?"

FAST SKATERS USED BY GERMANS FOR DESPATCHES

(By Associated Press)
KIEV, Russia.—Among German prisoners recently brought here were a number of men who called themselves "despatch skaters." From them it was learned that a whole company of expert skaters had been equipped early in the winter to carry despatches by short cuts across the lakes from which the Germans have taken up winter quarters in various sections of the front. The organizer was said to be a man of the name of Wagner from Vienna, a prize skater and racer of local renown. The prisoners were captured at Volini, near Vladimir Volynsk.

U. S. SHIPS TO TAKE FOOD TO JEWS IN PALESTINE

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The United States collier Sterling will be used to transport supplies from this country to Jewish sufferers in Palestine. In addition to medicines to be sent by the American Jewish relief committee, the Sterling will carry 60,000 pounds of matzo, for which funds have been collected by the Hebrew Shelter and Immigration Aid Society of this city. Word was received from rabbis in the Holy Land that a matzo famine was likely at Passover because of the inadequate grain crop. The Sterling sailed from Norfolk February 16.
